

A LITTLE BIT OF TRIVIA

- Legend has it that tea was discovered by the Chinese Emperor Shen Nong in 2737 BCE. A tea leaf accidentally fell into his bowl of hot water, and the rest is history.
- There are 4 main types of tea (white, green, oolong, & black) and they all come from one plant (camellia sinensis). The way the leaves are treated is what creates the different types of tea

Remember the nursery rhyme ...

I'm a little teapot ?

All teapots have the pot; the handle and the spout and it seems that forever and a day teapots have been styled & re styled to reflect society.

You really do have to see them to believe.

5,000 TEAPOTS SHORT AND STOUT

And tall and skinny, and in the shape of koalas!
Could you ever imagine owning 5,000 of something?

Barlee and Robyn in Boyup Brook created an impressive and quirky collection which they opened to the public.

And it's one of the biggest single teapot collections in the world!

ROBYN &
BARLEE JONES

RUTH & RAY GORMAN

THE HISTORY OF THE COLLECTION ...

The collection began in Boyup Brook in 1996 by Robyn and Barlee Jones with 10 teapots and was later moved to the locality of Dinninup where it grew to 5000 treasured items.

Unfortunately ill health meant it needed a new home and caretakers. Enter Ruth and Ray Gorman who brought the collection back to town and created a purpose built shed to show the teapots at their best.

A 'not to be missed' experience
